Product information

The Rambo® Protector Detach-A-Neck Fly Rug offers maximum breathability while still providing a high level of protection against flying insects and UV rays. Made from a breathable and durable, unique, patented material, the rug features a glossy polyester lining on the neck, shoulders, and tail to reduce the risk of chafing. The Rambo® Protector is designed to cover as much of your horse as possible. It features a generous, removable neck flap, extra depth at the knees, and an extended belly flap. This, combined with an oversized tail flap, helps prevent pesky flies and harmful UV rays from reaching your horse’s skin. A V-front closure and leg openings allow your horse to graze comfortably. This Rambo® Fly Rug is equipped with three straight belly straps and a tail strap and is a must-have for anyone looking for a durable rug for warm weather.
