winter or when the air is damp. This is where Super Arti Gel provides relief.

This gel can also be used for muscle strains or muscle tension. Its blood-circulation-boosting effect kickstarts the healing process and helps release muscle blockages. The silicon it contains is quickly absorbed through the skin and promotes collagen production. It thus supports recovery from tendon injuries or cartilage damage and keeps tendons, ligaments, and connective tissue elastic and healthy

. It naturally promotes the healing process

. Arnica has a stimulating effect, boosts blood circulation, and thus has a soothing effect on muscles and joints. The increased blood flow sets the healing process in motion.

Devil's claw and frankincense have analgesic and anti-inflammatory effects.

Organic silicon is the main component of tendons. It is absorbed through the skin and promotes collagen production. It thus ensures faster regeneration of tendons and ligaments and keeps them elastic and healthy.
