Frey Spirulina Pellets, 3 kg, are a high-quality supplemental feed in pellet form for horses and offer a convenient solution for daily feeding. The microalgae spirulina is known for its nutrient-rich composition and is particularly valued in equine nutrition for its versatile properties. The 3-kg container is suitable for regular use in daily stable routines and facilitates simple, clean dosing.

As a natural supplement in equine nutrition, the pellets can be easily integrated into existing feed rations. The pellet form facilitates intake and is particularly beneficial for sensitive horses that require a well-tolerated supplement. Frey relies on a compact form that is easy to handle in everyday use.
