Product information

summer eczema and skin conditions early Officinalis DER Gel was developed as a well-tolerated gel to relieve the discomfort of horses with summer eczema and similar skin conditions. Summer eczema, which results from bites by biting flies such as the black fly, causes severe itching. As a result, horses with summer eczema often rub themselves raw very quickly and intensely. As a result, they not only lose their hair in the rubbed areas, but dangerous inflammations can also develop, which in turn attract even more midges and other parasites—creating a vicious cycle. That is why it is urgently necessary to treat summer eczema as early as possible.

DER Gel Relieves Itching and Inhibits Inflammation

The Lenitivo Gel from Officinalis's DER line is specifically formulated to treat this common skin condition: extracts of asters and calendula have a soothing and beneficial effect on the skin. Evening primrose extract and added vitamin E strengthen the skin's natural barriers and help rebuild tissue damaged by chafing, making the skin more resilient. Caraway oil, in turn, relieves itching, while neem oil acts as a mosquito repellent. In this way, DER Gel can break the vicious cycle of summer eczema and restore skin health.

Maximum Effectiveness and Optimal Tolerance

Thanks to a uniquely high concentration of active ingredients, this skin gel for summer eczema provides rapid relief from this bothersome condition. Since DER Gel contains almost exclusively natural ingredients, it can also be safely used on sensitive horse skin and applied over an extended period of time. DER Gel quickly and naturally puts an end to oozing chafing and itchy summer eczema!
