This slow feeder ensures that your horse or pony eats less grass. Ideal for horses with insulin resistance or who are overweight. The horse can still graze in the pasture but won’t eat too much grass. The front cutouts allow the nostrils to move freely. With this grazing restraint, the horse can drink normally

- Feed restrictor with cutouts for the nostrils
- Features a ring to which a lead rope can be attached
- With adjustable cheek pieces and headstall
- With a Velcro fastener on the headstall

Product information

- The Velcro fastener opens when significant force is applied to the headstall, which is designed to prevent the horse from getting caught
