SPARROW Cat Relax Snacks – Natural support for greater calm and well-being

Stress can have a negative impact on cats’ behavior and well-being. The Relax Snacks were developed by experts to help cats cope more calmly with stressful situations and better process negative experiences.

Nucleotides – The Key to Stress Management

Product information

Nucleotides are essential building blocks of DNA and RNA that play a central role in regulating neurotransmitters such as serotonin and dopamine. These directly influence your cat’s mood, behavior, and ability to cope with stress. An imbalance can lead to anxiety, nervousness, or restlessness.
Since modern cat diets contain very little collagen and nucleotides, it’s all the more important to provide them with these nutrients specifically.

High-Quality Natural Ingredients for Strong Nerves

For thousands of years, certain herbs have been used for their relaxing properties. In SPARROW’s Relax Snacks, they are optimally combined to promote inner balance without impairing your cat’s alertness or activity.

For a less stressful and happier life for your cat!

Give your cat the chance to navigate everyday life with more calm and confidence. Relax Snacks provide long-term support for your cat’s well-being and help your four-legged friend go through life more relaxed.
