Fly Rug Liner by Horseware

All Horseware fly rugs (with the exception of the Horseware Amigo Mio Fly Rug) can be converted into a combined fly/rain rug in just a few minutes. This liner consists of a two-layer polyester fabric; it is waterproof and breathable. The material wicks moisture away from the body and ensures good air circulation. The liner attaches to the stainless steel eyelets at the neckline with Velcro strips and features a front closure with a large Velcro loop. At the back, the liner attaches to the eyelets on the tail strap with carabiners. The underblanket is made of white, sun-reflective material, protecting the horse from overheating.
