Larger, more durable, safer: Absolute sets the new standard for absolute protection. Veredus has taken the concept of complete protection a step further and expanded the protective area made of gel and carbon—thanks to its innovative Y-shape—from the flexor tendon to the fetlock joint.

Carbon is the ultimate protective and extremely lightweight material. It makes the shell highly resistant to impacts, especially in the area of the flexor tendon and the fetlock joint, which is particularly vulnerable to strikes from the hooves of the hind legs and the opposite leg.

Product information

The 3 mm layer of Nitrex gel is capable of absorbing over 40% of impacts, thereby ensuring additional safety and outstanding comfort.

The new Carbon Gel Absolute, developed specifically for show jumping, combines all the features of the Vento line while also incorporating dual ventilation, ensuring excellent breathability and maximum comfort.
