When things sparkle, winter on horseback is so much more fun: Riders with a penchant for elegant looks and that certain something will be thrilled by the sporty, trendy JARDY. This highly functional winter riding glove, tailored to fit women’s hands, fits like a second skin and meets all requirements for warmth retention, comfort, grip, and tactile sensitivity. But what makes it a real standout is its feminine design, embellished with genuine Swarovski crystals that make the glove sparkle. Windproof, breathable, and pleasantly stretchy ROECK-PROOF Soft Shell on the back of the hand keeps you warm and moves effortlessly with every motion in the saddle. The materials and construction of the palm are crucial for agility and sensitivity on the reins—and thus for that subtle connection to the horse’s mouth. Here, the exceptionally thin ROECK-AIR material stands out: It is not only highly tactile and offers a secure grip, but is also extremely durable and breathable thanks to micro-perforations. Additionally, it has been laminated with a soft Easy-Dry lining for extra warmth. Another comfort feature: the ROECK-exclusive COMFORT-CUT. Thanks to this, no additional padding is needed on the index finger, which further optimizes the fit. Additionally, the palm material has been pulled upward at the edge of the hand so that the seam runs along the back of the hand. A classic Velcro strap secures the JARDY comfortably to the wrist. Convenient: This stylish, eye-catching glove can be machine-washed at 30 degrees. Back of the hand: ROECK-PROOF® Ural
