The uvex crx 700 is an all-around glove for the stormy season: Thanks to the use of high-quality performance materials, this glove combines all the features every rider wants for fall and winter. Thanks to Schoeller® Soft Shell, the new riding glove from uvex is the ideal companion in wind, rain, and cold—both in the stable and in the saddle.

Moisture control, heat retention, wind- and water-repellent—thanks to the Schoeller® Soft Shell material, the uvex crx 700 is a true all-rounder. The multi-layer material used on the back of the hand in this new outdoor riding glove is both breathable and wind- and water-repellent. Hands stay dry even in damp weather, and sweat is effectively wicked away. Cold fingers in the stable
