QHP World Tour Winter Riding Leggings are winter-ready women’s riding pants with a full-seat grip that combine functionality and comfort for colder days. The supple stretch fabric with a brushed interior ensures a pleasantly soft feel while also providing warmer insulation in the saddle and during everyday stable life. The black color scheme with contrasting details emphasizes the sporty character and gives the riding leggings a clean, modern look.

The elastic waistband offers a comfortable fit, while the full-seat Grip provides additional support while riding. The cell phone pocket on the upper left leg, featuring “Equestrian sport,” is practical for everyday use and allows you to safely store small essentials. Thanks to the combination of freedom of movement, warmth, and slip-resistant support, these riding leggings are ideal for training, trail rides, and daily use during the winter season.
