The first thing that catches your eye about the WOLFACH winter riding glove is its fully reflective back made of super-elastic ROECK-REFLECT in a slightly shimmering silver and black.

Product information

The highlight: This special material reliably reflects incoming light*—ideal, for example, for longer rides when twilight is already setting in.
It also flexibly follows every movement of the fingers and hands while riding, walking the dog, or working in the stable; it’s reliably windproof and lined with a comfortably warm fleece.
The palm, made of ECO.SENSE®, offers exceptional tactile sensitivity.
And because it’s laminated with the fully recycled Eco lining, there’s no unwanted shifting of layers when handling reins and equipment.
It’s great that Roeckl Sports also thought of the clever TOUCHSCREEN COMPATIBLE feature—this means you don’t have to take off the WOLFACH to use your smartphone.
A stretchy neoprene cuff with a discreet Velcro strap on the back of the hand ensures a snug fit at the wrist, complemented by a soft fleece thumb.
The Roeckl Sports Reflect logo adds a stylish accent to the metallic green or silver design.

Practical: This model contains no leather, so it can be machine-washed at 30 degrees and is ready for your next ride in no time.
