Product information

Book—There's a Worm in It

Art.Nr.: F-WURM / GTIN: 9783743189935 / manufacturer:

26,00CHF

incl. 8,1% VAT plus Shipping

Delivery Mon 09. Nov - Tue 10. Nov 2026

With Da ist der Wurm drin, Nana Keck and Conny Röhm have successfully compiled a comprehensive overview of all topics related to modern selective deworming in horses. The authors explain everything worth knowing about this extensive field in a simple and understandable way: from A—for “beginning” or “Anoplocephala”—to Z—for “centrifuge” or “zebra.” Readers gain deep insights into the world of equine parasites, the historical development of deworming treatments, the active ingredients and side effects of deworming medications, as well as detailed instructions for getting started with modern selective deworming in horses. The authors address countless practical questions regarding the choice of deworming treatment and alternative deworming methods, and even explain what “larval cyatostomiasis” is all about. They explain why one shouldn’t simply reach for just any deworming treatment and what side effects unnecessary deworming can have on the horse’s immediate environment. All of this, of course, with a dash of dry humor.

Product information

About

the Author: Conny Röhm has been writing and teaching in the field of equine science for nearly 15 years. A graduate in equine science, she is a specialist in equine nutrition and gastrointestinal diseases in horses. Her relaxed and engaging manner of explaining complex topics in an exciting and understandable way has made her one of the most sought-after lecturers and authors worldwide in the extensive field of equine science. For several years, she has also headed the Institute of Animal Science, a private educational institution offering degree programs and continuing education in the field of animal science.