First Aid Propolis Gel
Natural active ingredients from the beehive.
Bees produce the natural substance propolis, which contains vitamins, resins, and trace elements, to protect the beehive from disease with this natural antibiotic. The essential oils and resinous components of propolis have antibacterial properties and support wound healing. Propolis Gel naturally helps with abscesses, eczema, insect bites, minor skin injuries, and cracks. This natural active ingredient from the beehive enhances the skin’s protective function. It nourishes, soothes, and keeps the skin supple. Propolis gel is also helpful when applied to the saddle area and girth line to relieve saddle and girth pressure, as well as on the chest and legs.
