Therapy Mesh Cooler, Limited Edition (black/silver)
Bucas has developed a high-quality horse blanket, the Bucas Therapy Blanket. It not only aids in the treatment of medical conditions but also helps prevent a variety of ailments. The high-quality material of the Therapy Blankets consists of an extremely fine stainless steel mesh that reflects the magnetic fields generated within the horse’s body. This, in turn, stimulates blood circulation and oxygen flow in the horse’s body and back, which helps reduce swelling and inflammation and accelerates the healing process. If necessary, the blanket can be worn by the horse for 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, since it is not a magnetic blanket. However, it is recommended to gradually increase the use of the Therapy Blankets and to monitor the horse closely.
The therapeutic blankets are the ideal choice for horses with back problems or whose muscles warm up slowly during riding. In addition, the recovery process and rest periods are naturally accelerated and shortened. The material’s properties do not wash out. The silky “Derma-care” lining, with its moisture-wicking properties, keeps the horse dry and the coat smooth and supple. The Bucas Therapy blanket is equipped with the unique “Click’n Go” system featuring a “Magnetic Snap-Look” closure.

The Therapy Mesh Cooler Blanket is designed more for the warmer months of the year. It features mesh fabric at the bottom, which keeps flies away from the horse while still ensuring good air circulation. The Mesh Cooler Blanket includes all the features of the Therapy line.
