protection. The two honeycomb-shaped polystyrene ventilation grilles of the intelligent helmet ventilation system create increased air circulation for optimal comfort. This helmet also features KASK’s patented, self-adjusting Fit System. Used for the first time in equestrian sports, this adjustment system ensures that the helmet fits perfectly by automatically adapting to the rider’s head while providing neck support. The Dogma Pure Shine, with its tone-on-tone design, is available in a wide variety of colors to meet the needs of all riders.
