Bring on the summer! During the warmer months, riders of all genders will love the sporty, airy, and lightweight MOYO riding gloves from ROECKL SPORTS. This exceptionally comfortable summer model features stretchy suntan™ mesh on the back of the hand—an innovative material that truly shines on very sunny and hot days: Not only is it pleasantly thin and supple, ensuring a comfortable fit, but it also allows UV rays to pass through, preventing unwanted tan lines on the wrist. In addition, together with the sophisticated, exclusive COMFORT-CUT design, it ensures a precise fit and comfortable freedom of movement for the hands and fingers. A soft, thin PU material is used on the palm—for a secure and reliable grip on the reins without sacrificing the necessary tactile sensitivity and precision when interacting with the horse's sensitive mouth. A classic Velcro strap at the wrist optimizes the MOYO's already excellent fit. Last but not least: the look. Here, the model stands out with a prominent ROECKL logo across the back of the hand, giving it a dynamic, confident look. By the way, riding gloves should be washed regularly to maintain their functionality and extend their lifespan. The MOYO can be machine-washed at 30 degrees without any issues.
