Product information

Color: blue
Season: Winter

With its delicate stripes, the WAYNE seamlessly bridges the gap between a sporty, fashionable all-rounder and the perfect paddock glove for fall and winter, all with plenty of style and casual flair. It’s made of soft, highly elastic brushed Lycra fabric that’s brushed on the inside. This allows it to fit snugly and comfortably against the skin and hand, offering exceptional comfort. It also effectively absorbs moisture and allows it to escape to the outside. The palm features a large silicone-coated area, ensuring a secure grip on reins, leads, and all other equestrian equipment without slipping. Reflective design elements highlight the sporty aesthetic, and this practical all-rounder also offers excellent value for the money. And since working with horses and in the stable often involves heavy use and dirt, the WAYNE is machine washable at 30 degrees. Note: ROECKL SPORTS expressly does not recommend this model as a riding glove, but rather as a comfortable glove for walking with your horse and for everyday stable use. Back: brushed elastic polyester with print
