CellaVie® Dog DermaCare Powder
: Cellular Nutrition for the Skin. Dietary supplement for dogs

Brief Description

CellaVie® Dog DermaCare Powder is a customized cellular nutrition formula for healthy skin and a shiny coat. The innovative formula combines proven nutrients such as krill, brewer's yeast, biotin, and zinc with 15% bioavailable Cell-K30-Nutrition® nucleotides. These specifically support continuous cell renewal, strengthen the natural skin barrier, and promote greater resilience from the inside out.

Cellular Power for a Strong Skin Barrier and a Shiny Coat

The skin is your dog's largest organ and its most important shield against external influences. To maintain this protective function, the skin must continuously renew itself through constant cell division. The problem: This uninterrupted regeneration process consumes enormous amounts of specific cellular building blocks (nucleotides). If the body cannot produce its own building blocks quickly enough during shedding, times of stress, or skin irritations, this weakens the skin barrier. The consequences are often flaky skin, a dull coat, and reduced resistance.

The solution is CellaVie® Dog DermaCare Powder—a highly innovative cellular nutrient that tackles skin problems at their root. The formula combines proven skin and coat nutrients such as krill, brewer's yeast, collagen, zinc, and biotin with 15% of the revolutionary Cell-K30-Nutrition® nucleotides. These essential building blocks of DNA and RNA act as indispensable "builders" that actively accelerate skin cell renewal and deeply support the regeneration of the skin barrier. Close the nutritional gap at the cellular level and give your dog soothed skin and a radiantly healthy coat from the inside out.

5 reasons why CellaVie® Dog DermaCare Powder is good for your dog:

- Promotes lightning-fast cell renewal: The 15% nucleotides it contains are the building blocks of DNA and RNA, which actively accelerate continuous cell division and skin regeneration.
- Supports an intact skin barrier: Rapid cell renewal strengthens the skin's natural resistance to external environmental influences and protects against moisture loss.
- Ensures a lustrous coat and soothed skin: Natural ingredients such as krill, brewer's yeast, and collagen inherently possess the best properties for soothing the skin and strengthening the hair structure.
- Closes the biological nutrient gap: Since the constantly renewing skin requires an extremely large amount of nucleotides, the powder provides exactly the external supply that is essential for this process to run smoothly.
- The booster with zinc and biotin: The smart combination of nucleotides with classic skin vitamins and minerals guarantees highly efficient nutrient absorption directly into the cell.
