The EQUEST Reflect Line hoof bell combines reliable ball protection with significantly enhanced visibility. The reflective gray material becomes clearly visible when light hits it, increasing safety in traffic—especially during the darker months of the year.

- Reflective outer material for better visibility in the dark
- Provides reliable protection against injuries from being stepped on or brushed against
- Soft fur-lined edge to prevent pressure points and chafing
- Secure fit for daily use or the trip to the riding arena
- A practical set of two hoof bells—functional, comfortable, and with an added safety benefit.
