The Amigo Lead-Ride Blanket keeps key muscle groups warm without restricting the shoulders. It’s ideal for working in hand, in a horse walker, or for lunging. The curved cut relieves pressure on the shoulders and allows for full range of motion, making the blanket perfect for any riderless training in cold weather.

With its waterproof, breathable outer material made of 900D ripstop polyester and 100-gram fiber filling, the blanket protects against the elements and keeps the horse comfortably dry. The glossy lining keeps the coat healthy and prevents the blanket from chafing.

A single straight chest closure, two adjustable cross-straps, and a tail strap keep the blanket securely in place during movement and in windy conditions.
