Premium Streamline Lambskin
Saddle PadThe Premium Streamline Lambskin Saddle Pad impresses with its stylish and high-quality design. The soft lambskin trim on the saddle contact area ensures optimal pressure distribution, reduces friction, and provides both temperature regulation and breathability. The saddle pad achieves its full effectiveness when used in combination with the matching saddle component (included with delivery).

Streamline Technology Streamline technology was developed to ensure a stable connection between the saddle pad and the saddle while minimizing slippage and friction. Thanks to the Velcro strip along the top line in the lumbar region, which works in conjunction with the saddle component, it delivers unprecedented comfort under the saddle. While riding, the saddle pad remains in place and does not ride up onto the withers or into the horse’s loin area. The sensitive area around the spine is thus protected, allowing the horse freedom of movement. The flat profile of the entire saddle pad also contributes to this effect, supporting a stable connection to the saddle and preventing slipping and friction.
The Streamline lambskin saddle pad features a soft velour trim, a stylish piping, reinforced girth and spine channel areas, and adjustable snap-button fasteners on the girth rings.
In addition to the Streamline saddle pad, the package includes the corresponding saddle component.
Attachment in Just a Few Steps
Thanks to the innovative and easy-to-use system, the Streamline saddle pads can be attached to the saddle in just a few steps.

- First, insert the saddle component by hand into the area between the cushion and the tree.
- The Velcro strip on the top line in the lumbar region of the saddle pad can now be secured to the corresponding part of the saddle component.
- The adjustable snap-button fasteners allow for secure attachment to the girth rings.
