Kentucky's waterproof lead-line blanket is a high-performance blanket made from a three-layer fabric.
The outer material, made of high-strength 600D polyester, is laminated with a waterproof/breathable membrane and lined on the inside with our synthetic rabbit fur. The neck, chest, and shoulders are lined with synthetic sheepskin to provide even more comfort during lunging or use in a horse walker. The faux rabbit fur lining provides extra warmth by creating tiny air pockets that trap the horse’s body heat. It also ensures comfort, makes your horse’s coat shine, and prevents chafing. The shoulders are left open, and the rug features a classic front closure combined with a sturdy Velcro fastener. The Walker Rug Waterproof features two straps that keep it in place, as well as a nylon tail cord attached to two D-rings. Thanks to the stylish faux leather buckles, it looks very chic and is machine washable at 30°C, though it is not suitable for the dryer. - Three-layer membrane fabric - 160 g filling - Waterproof / breathable - Shoulder-free - Front closure, straps, and tail cord
