With the WinFreedom winter riding boot, Sergio Grasso offers an eco-friendly line made from innovative, highly efficient materials of non-animal origin. An alternative to leather that feels just like leather and retains its comfort and softness.

The microfibers used—for the upper, insole, and lining—are the result of a production process that guarantees full compliance with environmental regulations.

The special V-Label-certified microfiber used for the upper is 100% waterproof and fully breathable, as well as abrasion-resistant and antibacterial. The lining and insole, made from the latest generation of microfiber, absorb and wick away moisture from the inside, improving foot health, comfort, and hygiene.

The WinFreedom riding boot combines the selection and use of alternative, advanced, and certified materials with a constant search for new stylistic and functional solutions.
The zipper makes the boot easy to fasten, and thanks to the elastic inserts, it fits perfectly around the rider’s calf. The sole features a non-slip Vibram outsole. The anatomical footbed provides shock absorption and prevents foot fatigue.
