CellaVie® Dog CollagenPlus Premium Soft Sticks
— Cell Nutrition for Skin, Bones, and Connective Tissue. Dietary supplement for dogs

Brief Description

CellaVie® Dog CollagenPlus Premium Soft Sticks combine a unique taste with targeted cellular nutrition. Made with 81% premium Swiss lamb, 8% structural collagen, and innovative Cell-K30-Nutrition® nucleotides, they actively support joints, bones, skin, and connective tissue. The perfect premium snack for smooth cell regeneration and daily vitality.

Pure indulgence meets highly effective cellular power for joints, bones, and skin

Your dog’s musculoskeletal system works hard every day. Cartilage, tendons, ligaments, and skin are constantly under stress and must continuously regenerate to remain healthy and elastic. Since connective tissue requires large amounts of specific building blocks for this renewal process, the body’s own production is often insufficient—the tissue loses its elasticity and structure.

The solution is CellaVie® Dog CollagenPlus Premium Soft Sticks: a unique combination of genuine premium taste and scientifically backed cellular nutrition. With an outstanding 81% fresh Swiss lamb (including valuable offal), these soft sticks are an absolute treat for every dog’s palate. In addition, 8% pure collagen provides the essential structural protein for cartilage and connective tissue development.

The recipe is perfected by 1.5% Cell-K30-Nutrition® nucleotides. These important building blocks of DNA and RNA support protein synthesis deep within the cell, ensuring that vital repair processes can proceed smoothly. Reward your dog with genuine Swiss quality and boost his natural vitality with every bite.

5 reasons why CellaVie® Dog CollagenPlus Premium Soft Sticks are good for your dog:

- Highest premium quality from Switzerland: With 81% of the finest Swiss lamb (fresh meat and offal), these sticks guarantee excellent palatability and digestibility.
- Strengthens joints, bones, and tendons: The targeted addition of 8% collagen provides the essential structural protein that supports natural mobility and cartilage maintenance.
- Promotes supple skin and healthy connective tissue: The valuable nutrients naturally help maintain the skin’s elasticity and the tone of the entire connective tissue.
- Supports cell renewal thanks to nucleotides: The innovative Cell-K30-Nutrition® nucleotides act as essential building blocks of DNA and RNA to enable smooth protein synthesis and rapid repair processes.
- Perfect for daily use: The smooth, soft texture makes portioning particularly easy—ideal as a daily treat that provides the body with essential cellular nourishment.
