Product information

Color: brown

The A|K|A powered by Stübben lunge girth was developed specifically for training young and challenging horses. The large D-rings allow you to thread the AKA powered by Stübben double lunge line through them and attach a variety of training stimuli. The girth is ideal for desensitizing skittish, fearful, and phobic horses, as stimuli can be applied in small, manageable doses that the horse can process. This helps prevent uncontrollable fear responses in the horse. For safety reasons, the lunging girth should always be used in conjunction with the A|K|A powered by Stübben breast collar to prevent the girth from slipping backward and to allow for gradual girthing in horses that resist the girth.One size fits all!
