Product information

The “THERAPEUTIC SUPPORT BOOT AIR” stable and transport boots are equipped with 18 magnets, which can improve cellular function and provide natural therapeutic support for the hoof and cannon bone, as well as a reflexology massage for the entire horse.

They are two products in one, because in addition to therapeutic use in the stable, the boots can also be used for transport. The ligaments and tendons are optimally protected and supported. This can reduce swelling after work and during transport.

The gaiters are manufactured entirely in Italy and come with a replaceable, quilted insert made of COOLMAX® material (a special fiber that wicks moisture toward the outer surface of the fabric, thereby keeping the skin dry). On the outer surface, at the level of the coffin bone and pastern, there is a protective layer to reduce wear caused by friction. The elastic bandages with Velcro fasteners are designed to optimize tendon support and ensure comfort and a snug fit.

EFFECTS OF REFLEXOLOGY:
Through the use of reflexology—specifically, magnetic stimulation of the reflex points (Ting) along specific meridians of the horse (the same ones used in acupuncture)—moderate balancing effects are achieved. All effects of reflexology are published on our website at www.zandona.net.

LOCAL EFFECTS OF MAGNETIC THERAPY:
Unlike anti-inflammatory drugs, which cause vasoconstriction (and thus slow down blood and lymph circulation, leading to a subsequent slowdown in cellular processes), magnetic therapy can have a positive effect on pain and swelling, avoids the undesirable side effects of medications, and instead enhances regenerative processes:

- Pain-relieving effect
- Anti-inflammatory effect;
- Increased microcirculation in the cartilage
- Acceleration of lactic acid absorption
- Acceleration of the toxin elimination process
- Acceleration of the osteogenesis process
- Acceleration of cellular processes

GENERAL EFFECTS OF MAGNETIC THERAPY:
Preliminary note: An inflammatory process reduces blood circulation and, consequently, oxygenation of the cells; this weakens the entire organism and leads to cellular acidosis and, consequently, changes in pH. In turn, the body’s pH level influences all anti-inflammatory processes, the intestinal flora, etc.

The “Therapeutic Support Boot” gaiter can therefore induce the following:

- Increased blood flow ► Increased oxygenation ► Reduction of cellular acidosis ► Restoration of pH balance + remineralization of the bones.
- Restoration of pH balance ► Reduction of inflammatory processes + restoration of gut flora balance + strengthening of the immune system;
- Lowering of blood pressure ► Calming effect.

TREATABLE CONDITIONS:

- Muscle, tendon, and cartilage injuries
- Ligament inflammation
- Fractures
- Osteoporosis.
