Product information

Developed by specialists, Hoof Formula is an optimal, unique, and targeted dietary supplement that accelerates hoof growth and improves horn quality.

Hoof Formula is highly valued in high-performance sports: in show jumping, eventing, and endurance riding, as well as—in particular—among trainers of trotting and thoroughbred racehorses, and among breeders.

It comes in the form of compact pellets that are very palatable and have high biological value. Hoof Formula contains 37% highly digestible protein, which is particularly rich in essential amino acids and sulfur-containing amino acids such as methionine and cystine. This makes it especially suitable for sport horses fed a diet with a very high grain content.

Hoof Formula is likely one of the feed supplements with the highest biotin content (100 m/kg) and vitamin A content (975,000 IU/kg).

It is enriched with additional vitamins (Vitamin PP, Vitamin Bc, Vitamin B12) that play a role in the synthesis of high-quality hoof horn.

Hoof Formula is also an ideal vitamin complex.

It has an elevated calcium content, which helps correct any potential imbalance.

The other essential minerals (magnesium, potassium, phosphorus) are also included in optimal proportions.

However, all these components can only fulfill their function if the correct amount of trace elements is also available, most of which act as cofactors. That is why Hoof Formula also provides your horse with the right amount of copper, zinc, cobalt, and iodine.

This is why Hoof Formula is an optimal, high-quality dietary supplement that ensures a balanced supply of nutrients for all equines!
